SELL YOUR PHOTOS

on a Global Market

IFPO member Francis J. Dean, doing business as DeanPictures, is seeking IFPO members and other freelance photographers who want to sell images on a global market.

DeanPictures can market high quality images of news, royalty, internationally known models, celebrities and photo features for editorial purposes.

- NO sports will be considered.
- Only digital images via email will be accepted.
- Good, complete captions in English (who, what, when, where and how) must accompany each photo. Even the best photo is worthless when not captioned.

- Sales will be shared equally. The photographer will receive 50% of the sales price. DeanPictures will retain 50%.
- Payment to photographer will be made within 60 days of sale. DeanPictures will syndicate digital images to publications and other buyers in the United Kingdom, United States, Germany, France, Sweden and Denmark.

DeanPictures, previously known as Dean Press Image has been associated with IFPO since 1985.
